Acupuncture Clinic Saskatoon - Therapy using magnets and the magnetic field which surrounds living things is a form of complementary or alternative medicine. Also referred to as magnet therapy, magneto-therapy or magnotherapy, permanent static magnets or electromagnetic devices are positioned onto the bodies of client by practitioners.

Various health benefits are purported by magnetic therapy advocates. Although there is no scientific evidence to back these claims, some of the supposed benefits consist of accelerated healing of wounds, increased vitality and increased energy. Some practitioners claim that various health benefits can be attained based on where the magnet is placed on the body.

There are various practitioners and believers of magnetic therapy who feel that without using the magnets, individuals could experience a general feeling of unease, discomfort and illness, or that these people are prone to suffer from depression. These practitioners define depression as "Magnetic Field Deficiency Syndrome," nevertheless; various professionals deny the validity of this condition. A large number of health experts and physicians totally deny the effectiveness of magnetic therapy all together.

Benefits of magnetic therapy are thought to consist of an enhanced circulatory system. As a matter of fact, blood proteins known as hemoglobin, carry oxygen and are weakly diamagnetic. This means that hemoglobin could generate a magnetic field in opposition to an externally used magnetic field. Nevertheless, it is thought that the magnets which are utilized in products related and in magnetic therapy are much too weak to have any affect at all on the circulatory system or the blood flow within the body.

Even though there is little to no evidence that this kind of therapy provides any measurable health benefits, there are lots of people who practice and undergo magnetic therapy. Several individuals claim that magnetic therapy works by way of a placebo effect, meaning individuals who participate in magnetic therapy only feel stronger and happier and healthier for the reason that they have been told that the particular therapy will provide them with health benefits.

Practically the whole industry is based on the sale of products to which the consumer can have on. There are numerous magnetic products accessible. Products comprise everything from magnetic mattresses, water which has been magnetized, blankets woven together with magnetic materials, magnetic straps which are designed to fit round the ankles, wrists, and midsection; magnetic shoe insoles and various kinds of magnetic jewelry, particularly bracelets.
